

Giuseppe is from Italy and he has been working for more than 3 years as a Research Technologist at the CREA - Agricultural Research Council and the analysis of Agrarian Economics research Institute where he is a member of a working group for the implementation of LEADER approach and CLLD within the Italian National Rural Network (NRN) activities.

He also works as a Joint Secretariat project Officer within the European Territorial Cooperation Programme Interreg VA Greece-Italy 2014-2020. Concerning his previous working experience, Giuseppe has been working for 16 years as an expert for Puglia Region government, the Municipality of Taranto, the Italian Ministries and other public and private entities in the activities of technical assistance to programmes and projects (rural, urban, cultural and coastal development and European territorial cooperation) in the framework of the EU Cohesion Policy and analysis and methodological support in the definition of the related national and regional policies.

He also worked for 6 years as a university assistant at the School of Law of the University of Lecce in the courses 'Euro-Mediterranean Area Policies', 'International Trade Law' and 'International Law' where I had the opportunity to do research and implement my knowledge in this field.

Concerning his academic qualifications, Giuseppe has been awarded a PhD at the School of Politics of Newcastle University. His further qualifications include a degree in Political Sciences with Economic and International specialization and a Master degree in International and Local Development.

He has delivered academic publications, technical, methodological and informative documents presented papers at workshops organized by the European Commission and at national and regional level.